CAPITALIZATION

Capitalize where necessary the following sentences. Briefly explain each.

1. e. m. forster's masterpiece, a passage to india, consists of three parts, the last of which is called "temple."

2. When it was first published, the King James bible was considered a breakthrough by English scholars across the globe.

3. After the fourth of July, the department chair spent many hours that summer swimming in the brisk water of Willard Beach.

4. Our favorite television show, the sopranos, an HBO megahit, ended last year.

5. The sacking of ancient Rome by Alaric the Goth took place in a.d. 384.

6. The Peace Corps, formed by JFK during the sixties, gave thousands of idealistic students a chance to help the needy in developing countries.

7. The last former senator to be elected president was George H. W. Bush, who was Connecticut's 2nd district senator from [ ] and was elected president in 1988.

8. Portland Harbor was as choppy as we had ever seen it during our Casco Bay Lines ferry ride to [Peaks] Island.

9. Rumor has it that at least one computer guru is a former CIA spook; you never know who is swiveling around in the office next door.

10. Sitting members of the academics committee, the college affairs committee, and the curriculum committee were all re-elected last year.